

LIBERTY TREE

This tree sapling was bud-grafted from a Tulip Poplar, the last surviving "Liberty Tree" in Annapolis, MD. "Liberty Trees" were gathering places for "Sons of Liberty" throughout the American colonies to meet and hold discussions while planting the seeds of the American Revolution. The tree has become symbols of freedom, perseverance and unity.

OPPORTUNITIES TO PARTICIPATE

FLAG / STATUE SPONSORSHIP

Individuals and companies have an opportunity to either sponsor a given flag or the statue (subject to available slots, as these may be renewed each year).

In appreciation of sponsorship, your information is added to the TTVM website.

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

Committee members have developed a hide and seek game where kids can go to the site, and look for various items of interest and learn about our veterans who gave all to protect our freedoms.

Check out the web site to download a PDF version to print and take with you.

The Tribute to Veterans Memorial is a 501 (c)(3) charity corporation
as defined by the Internal Revenue Service.

The Battle Field Cross has no religious connections and was first started during the Civil War as a marker for casualties waiting burial. During each conflict the Battle Field Cross was adapted resulting in the configuration represented at the site. The weapon, bayonet, boots, helmet and dog tags depict the conflict.
